Ginseng- A ginseng of the panax genus, Korean ginseng is very similar to American and Chinese ginseng. It grows on shaded mountainsides in China, Korea and Russia and, like other types of ginseng, has been used for thousands of years in traditional Chinese medicine. Historical references indicate that Korean ginseng was one of the most expensive herbs in the ancient Orient, and wars were even fought over the regions where Korean ginseng grew wild. Like all ginseng, Korean ginseng is also considered an adaptogen and is generally recommended to support physical and mental energy, helping one to maintain focus and stave off fatigue. It's also an excellent herb for immune system support and it possesses potent antioxidant properties.
