General Information and datasheet (SOURCE NATURALS)

Vitamin D

Supports the Immune System and Strong Bones

400 IU and 1000 IU

New research indicates that modern indoor lifestyles may lead to a widespread increase in vitamin D deficiency. Scientists are discovering that vitamin D is an important hormone precursor that supports immune response and helps regulate the health of at least 20 different tissues, including the nervous system and joints. It also plays an important role in regulating cell growth, insulin levels, and bone formation.
